Burnaby Shredder Wins Top BBB Torch Award for Marketplace Excellence

October 17th, 2009

Burnaby, B.C. – Burnaby-based Silver Bullet Shredding is proud to announce that it took home the top award for Marketplace Excellence at the Better Business Bureau's 2nd Annual Torch Awards gala held on Thursday October 15th, 2009.

The Torch Awards gala honours local businesses and individuals who have demonstrated outstanding commitment to fair, honest, and ethical marketplace practices.

Silver Bullet Shredding president and founder Bailey Jung was thrilled at being selected the winner. He told a packed room of business leaders in attendance that "the real winners are the customers who have chosen to do business with you and all the great companies that are represented here today".

Other winners at the BBB Torch Awards gala were local journalists Chris Olsen from the CTV and David Baines from the Vancouver Sun. Both individuals were presented with the Consumer Leadership award for their commitment to consumer advocacy, protection and education. For the second year in a row, Ian Hanomansing from the CBC was the Master of Ceremonies.
